PROTECT YOUR INVESTMENT IN YOUR FAMILY'S COMFORT

Weil-McLain Canada understands the investment involved in your family's comfort. In conjunction with your dealer, we offer industry leading peace of mind EWP's that protect you and your investment for years to come.

 for your home comfort system

Even today's best heating system may fail over time regardless of the manufacturer's excellent reputation, leaving you in a bind. With the purchase of an EWP during the initial investment in your home's comfort system, you will protect your budget against future unforeseen repair costs. For example, when you consider a single service call could cost you more than the initial cost of the EWP... the decision should be easy.

Our EWP's are administered by Prime Warranty, a Canadian-owned company representing over 100 years of combined industry experience and over 1 million policies sold, all underwritten by a top-rated third party insurance company.

Protect your investment into the future.

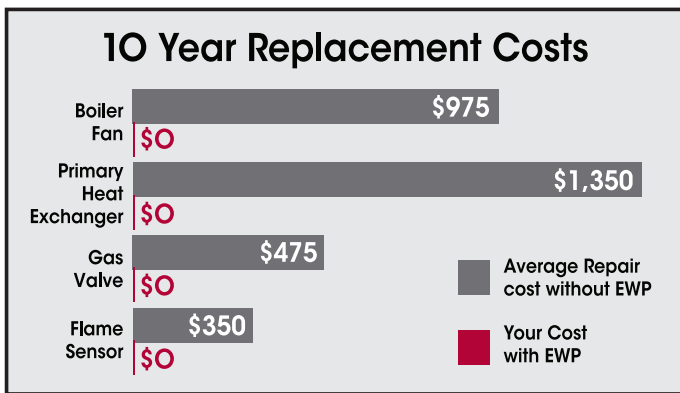

Enjoy the peace of mind that your home comfort system is protected and can be depended upon to deliver the comfort and efficiency you expect.

Buy tomorrow's repair costs at today's prices.

Due to outside influences such as price increases and inflation, residential heating costs will not remain the same in the future. By buying an EWP today, you are protected against those increasing costs.

Increase the resale value of your home.

Should you sell your home, the EWP is transferable to the new homeowners for a $30 transfer fee.
